LAST RITES OVER DEAD

FUNERAL OF GEN. BOYNTON AT NEW YORK AVENUE CHURCH.

The funeral service of Gen. Henry V. J. Boynton will be held in the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock, and will be conducted by Rev. Dr. Wallace Radcliffe, the pastor.

The remains reached this city from Atlantic City, where he died on Saturday, last evening. They were accompanied by the widow, Mrs. Boynton; Miss Marie Boynton, Miss Anita Boynton, Mr. Robert J. Wynne, consul general to London, and Mr. Jerome J. Wilber.

The funeral party was met at the Pennsylvania depot by a large party of Gen. Boynton's friends in this city. There were present many newspaper correspondents; members of the Gridiron Club, of which Gen. Boynton was once president, and others who had known him intimately. Major Carson, as chairman of the press committee of correspondents, was there, as were Mr. H. Clay Evans, formerly consul general at London; Col. John Tweedale, Gen. A. S. Burt, U. S. A., and others.

The remains were removed to Gen. Boynton's residence, 1221 R street northwest. The casket had been closed and will be opened at the church tomorrow.

The arrangements for the funeral were made by Gen. Boynton a short time before his death. He dictated these arrangements to his secretary a few days before his removal to Atlantic City. He designated the church at which the service was to take place, and even the hymns to be sung on that occasion. The services at the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church tomorrow at 11 o'clock will be conducted by Rev. Dr. Radcliffe. The Gridiron quartet will sing "Just As I Am, Without One Plea" and "Lord, If He Suffers He Shall Be Well," the latter being a dirge. These were favorites of Gen. Boynton's, and it was his wish that the first should be sung at his funeral. The second was selected by Mrs. Boynton.

Pallbearers Selected. Pallbearers selected by Gen. Boynton are as follows: Honorary—Major John M. Carson, Mr. Robert J. Wynne, Mr. Frank A. Richardson and Mr. L. A. Coolidge. Active—From the Army of the Cumberland, Gen. A. S. Burt, Gen. E. A. Carman, Col. John Tweedale and Col. G. C. Kniffin, and from the Gridiron Club, Messrs. P. V. De Graaf, R. L. Fearn, J. S. Shriver and O. O. Stealey.

The remains will be taken to Arlington National cemetery and there interred with military honors. At a meeting held yesterday afternoon the board of education decided to adopt the following resolutions: Within the brief period of two months the messenger of death has again entered this small circle and claimed our beloved colleague, Gen. Henry V. Boynton, who was the honored president of the board of education of the District of Columbia.

When Gen. Boynton was appointed a member of this board, four years ago, he was a stranger to the majority of us, though well known as a public-spirited citizen, but in a short time we discovered his abilities and lovable qualities as a man and friend.

He was distinguished as a soldier, journalist, author, churchman and good citizen. He was deeply interested in educational matters, and particularly in the affairs of the District of Columbia, as was manifested by his close attention to the business affairs of the board of education before his death. He was a member of the board, and he was prompt in attendance at all the meetings of the board, and his treatment of every member of this body was always kind and courteous. He also endeavored himself to be a large corps of teachers for his loyalty to them in their earnest efforts to secure from Congress better salaries for valuable services rendered.

His death is a serious loss to the schools of the District and the cause of education generally, and a personal bereavement to each member of the board.

We extend to the family of Gen. Boynton our heartfelt sympathy in their profound sorrow in the loss of a kind husband, brother and sympathetic friend and loyal citizen of Washington.

The Gridiron Club's Tribute. A special meeting of the Gridiron Club was held at noon today in the offices of the Associated Press, Star building, to take suitable action upon the funeral arrangements of Gen. H. V. Boynton. There was large attendance of the club, both the older and younger membership being in evidence, with Maj. John M. Carson presiding.

It was decided that the club should attend the funeral at the church in a body, and, accordingly, members of the club will assemble at the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church tomorrow morning. Many members of the club will also accompany the remains to Arlington. Suitable resolutions in respect to the death of General Boynton were drafted.

At the meeting of the club today Mr. Robert J. Wynne, consul general to London, who was very closely associated with General Boynton for a number of years, spoke feelingly about the late friend and associate of all the members of the Gridiron Club.

"General Boynton was closer to us than father or brother," said Mr. Wynne. "He was our friend, counselor, guide and model, in acquaintance of over twenty years. In the closest and most intimate relations enables me to speak with knowledge regarding this noble man. He was as incapable of an impure thought, word or action as one of the angels of heaven. His sole object in life seemed to be to do good. In whatever form this mission was presented General Boynton availed himself of the opportunity to render service promptly and efficiently."

"He helped the poor and aided the worthy. Rank or station made no difference to him in recognizing merit. We betide the dishonest or the immoral man who came within reach of the general's pen. As a newspaper writer he never ceased to battle against corruption, as he never ceased to praise decency and honesty in public life. And how kind he was to the younger men in our profession! This prince of journalists and gentlemen would go to any length for his friends. He spared himself not at all in labor, but he would lighten the burdens of his associates. That politeness, that consideration for others so happily practiced by members of the Gridiron Club owes its beginning to Boynton's precepts as one of our founders."

When the years roll by let us hope that the force of his example will not grow less. I could tell of General Boynton's crusades against wrongdoers, of the thieves he indicted, disbarred or put in jail; I could also recite his good deeds, but they are known to you and to the American people everywhere. He never flinched from an obligation. He never even flinched from death. May we be as well prepared when our day comes."

President May Attend. A delegation representing the Army of Cumberland, consisting of Gen. Andrew S. Burt, Col. Tweedale and Gen. Carman, will be present to the funeral of Gen. Boynton at 11 o'clock tomorrow. The President said he would certainly make an effort to be present, and would do so unless something unexpected should prevent.

GEN. W. T. WILSON DEAD.

Entered the War as a Private and Came Out a General.

Gen. W. T. Wilson, eighty-two years old, one of the two survivors of the delegates to the first Ohio republican state convention, which was held at Columbus in 1833, died in that city yesterday.

Gen. Wilson enlisted in Upper Sandusky as a private in the civil war, and came out as a brevetted brigadier general. Phil K. Clover of Pittsburg is his daughter.

The Sylph Again on Duty. The President's yacht, Sylph, arrived at the Washington navy yard yesterday from Norfolk, where she has been undergoing repairs since the accident to her machinery off the coast of Hatteras several weeks ago. She is reported to be in first-class condition and is not likely to be idle at this yard very long.

GEORGETOWN CONVENT

TWELVE GRADUATES RECEIVE DIPLOMAS.

Twelve graduates received diplomas at the commencement exercises of the Georgetown Visitation Convent yesterday afternoon. A feature of the exercises was the address of Rev. Diomedes Falconio, who was introduced to the class by Rev. Charles Mackesy, S. J., of Georgetown University, and chaplain of the convent.

The highest medal was won by Miss Louise Weadock of Michigan. This medal, known as the Loretta medal, was provided some time ago by Miss Marie Patterson of St. Louis, and is given to the student having the highest percentage in important and scholarship during the entire course. Other medals were awarded in the senior class as follows:

For Christian doctrine, Angela Clark; letters, Julia Ashe; intellectual philosophy, Louise Weadock; moral philosophy, Elise Smith; science, Mary Curtis; ancient history, Margaret Finley; modern history, Josephine Finley; French, Margaret Finley; piano, Anna Blake Bickers; graduating medals and honors, Louise Weadock, Julia Ashe, Elise Smith, Mary Curtis, Margaret Finley, Josephine Finley, Anna McNamara, Julia Ashe, Angela Clark, Doley Tuttle, Julia Moran, Agnes McNamara, Agnes Waggaman, Agnes Finley.

Premiums were awarded all the members of the senior class in Christian doctrine, belles lettres, science and history; to Elise Smith, Agnes Fordney, Josephine Powers, Margaret Finley and Doley Tuttle. In elocution, Latin and French; Margaret Finley, Josephine Powers, piano; Anna McNamara, Julia Ashe, Angela Clark, vocal music. Medals and premiums were also awarded to members of the lower classes by Father Mackesy.

Graduating Class.

The graduating class composed the following: Miss Louise Weadock of Michigan; Miss Julia Ashe of Tennessee; Miss Elise Smith of Virginia; Miss Mary Curtis of Illinois; Miss Margaret Finley of Ohio; Miss Josephine Powers of Illinois; Miss Angela Clark of Maryland; Miss Doley Tuttle of Florida; Miss Julia Moran of Pennsylvania; Miss Anna McNamara of Kentucky; Miss Agnes Waggaman of Washington; Miss Agnes Fordney of Michigan; Miss Josephine Powers of Michigan; Miss Anna Blake Bickers of Georgia, special in music.

In his address before the class Mr. Falconio said he was glad to be present to congratulate the young ladies on having completed the school course. He was particularly pleased, he said, as the representative of the Roman pontiff, at the expressions of loyalty in the address of one of their number. "Your education is not an end in itself, any use to the world I sincerely trust that your lives will prove to the world its value and the high kind of education, mental and moral, given to the pupils in these institutions."

Seated on the platform with Father Mackesy and Mr. Falconio were Rev. X. Finley, rector of St. Aloysius; Dr. Stuckney, secretary to Mr. Falconio; Father Daugherty, rector of Georgetown University; Dr. Curran, rector of the Catholic Indian bureau; Father Harlan, Trinity Church; Father Hinkley, prior of St. Dominic's; Father O'Rourke, St. Dominic's; Father Shandells of Georgetown; Father Buckley of St. Matthew's and Sisters Claude, Agnes and Fidelis of the school.

DISCUSS PUBLIC INTERESTS.

Commissioner West and Mr. Weller Address Citizens' Associations.

A brief meeting of the North Washington Citizens' Association was held last evening at 1801 3d street northwest. The meeting was the last of the season, and short addresses were made by Commissioner Henry L. West and Charles F. Weller, secretary of the board of charities. Several routine matters looking toward the development of properties in this section and the grading and improvement of streets, as well as better facilities for electric lighting, consumed the early portion of the proceedings.

Commissioner West was introduced by the president of the association. He spoke briefly and to the point, making here and there practical suggestions to aid the work of the citizens in securing improvements. He dwelt particularly upon the great value of the citizens' association as a guide to the District Commissioners in providing for the wants of the people. No better means presented itself, he said, than this for getting the best results. Commissioner West said that the Commissioners were in hearty sympathy with the citizens throughout the District in improving and in every way beautifying the national capital. But improvements will be made in every instance where there can be an equitable distribution of the appropriations made by Congress. He pointed out the wonderful development of the capital as indicative of its strength, and felt it was only a question of time before improvements in the outlying district would be accomplished.

TO MAKE A NORSE REPUBLIC.

Norway and Sweden to Follow the Lines of Swiss Confederation.

A cablegram from London says: The establishment of a republic has been one of the many predicted outcomes of the trouble between Sweden and Norway. The Copenhagen correspondent of the Telegraph reports the belief that this will be accomplished in the next few days, the republic being modeled on the Swiss confederation.

Autoists Dashed Over Embankment.

With their machines speeding forty miles an hour, four Millersburg (Ohio) automobiles were dashed over a twenty-foot embankment and severely injured by the breaking of the front axle near Coshocton last night.

The owner, John P. Thomas, was at the motor, and in the seat with him was David Wolgamuth. Thomas' legs were broken and Wolgamuth sustained internal injuries. In the rear seat were Charles Lohme and John D. Deetz. Each suffered an arm broken.

An Australian's Tour of Inspection.

Mr. James Burns, manager and director of the firm of Burns, Messers & Co., limited, one of the largest in Australia, and a prominent in the political and business world of the colony, called at the State Department today with a letter of introduction from Prime Minister H. G. Reid. Mr. Burns is making a tour of the United States and will be accompanied by his special request that he be accorded every facility for a thorough inspection of industrial establishments and municipal organizations.

Ranger's Arrival at Manila.

The Navy Department is informed that the cruiser Ranger arrived at Manila yesterday from San Francisco by way of Honolulu and Guam.

Six Yellow Fever Cases on the Isthmus.

Gov. Magoon cabled the War Department today that there are six cases of yellow fever on the Isthmus, none of them dangerous. The report is made by Col. Gorgas, who is in charge of the canal zone sanitation.

Warren A. Carpenter of Woonsocket, R. I., was nominated for governor of Rhode Island by the socialist party at Providence yesterday. James W. Higgins of Washington was nominated for lieutenant governor.

DO YOU enjoy the luxury of a Panama hat? At the prices we are selling ours you can do so without crippling your purse. We can fit you out in a hat for $4.75 that did we not buy these in quantities as we do and have them blocked and trimmed ourselves we would have to price them at $6.75. For we are showing $8.00, $10.00 and $12.00 values. This is also the result of buying ours months ago on the native heath, bringing them to this country and having them blocked and trimmed. The hats that we show as Panamas ARE GENUINE PANAMA, no imitations, and free from all substance of bleach and stiffening. They are as light as a feather—one scarcely feels the weight; they are sized carefully and formed to the size for which they were intended—that's why our hats have distinction.

Boys' Wash Sailor Suits--Special, 39c.

This concerns several lots of Wash Suits, made up in tan, gray and blue and white stripes. These are invested with a large sailor collar; combination shield. Sizes 3 to 8.

Boys' White and Fancy "Star" Waists, Special, 25c.

These come with or without collars, and because the supply is limited, and what we have come in broken sizes, we have made this great reduction. Would be a good value at $1.00.

Boys' Fancy Double-breasted Suits. $4.00 Value for $2.95.

All wool, fast color; some have two pairs of trousers to each coat and some are invested with double seat and knees, taped seams, lined fronts and patent bands. 8 to 16.

Boys' Knee Pants, Fully Worth $1.00, for 59c.

These are fashioned of all-wool chevrons, finest fabrics, made up of the small ends of cloth, else we would have to charge $1.00 for them instead of 59c; taped seams, patent waistbands; made up for summer comfort and service. Sizes 3 to 16.

Boys' Wash Knee Pants--Special, 25c.

This concerns several lots of Boys' Knee Pants, of Plain white duck, crash and fancy stripes, with fancy bloomers. Just the thing for the little man during the hot weather. Sizes 3 to 14.

Boys' Double-breasted Knee Pants Suits. $3.00 Value for $1.75.

In neat fancy stripes and plaids; Italian lined; well cut and made. These suits are right in the height of their popularity, and would be a good value even at $3.00. Sizes 7 to 16.

THE NEW SHOE EFFECTS.

Have you seen the new effects in "Queen Quality" Shoes? This season's showing surpasses all previous ones.

"Queen Quality" Shoes appeal particularly to discriminating women who appreciate fine materials and the importance of an accurate fit.

The range of choice is wide and varied: Patent Leather; the new Gun Metal Calf skin; Tan Russia Calf skin; soft mellow kid in black and various shades of brown; White Canvas and Linen. All on the new shapes and all at the moderate cost of
